Youth Shine at EastGen Atlantic 4-H Showcase 2012

TRURO, NS – Close to 85 dairy and beef participants lit up the fairgrounds in Truro, Nova Scotia from June 22nd to 24th with their youthful enthusiasm displayed during the 2012 EastGen Atlantic 4-H Showcase. This was the first youth event for 2012 in a series of four organized by EastGen across their service area.

“This was the largest group of youth participants we’ve had in the 23 years of this Truro event, and one of the largest spectator crowds we’ve ever had there to cheer them on,” said Dale MacPhee, EastGen Atlantic Area Manager, who emphasizes the company’s commitment to supporting and encouraging youth in agriculture. “It is important to mentor youth who are our future community leaders and represent the future of our agricultural industry.” MacPhee also commended Nova Scotia 4-H for their generous support and thanked all event leaders and sponsors who joined EastGen to make the Showcase an ongoing success.

The three-day event drew 4-H aged participants from across the Atlantic region. During the first two days there were presentations given by industry specialists, and then participants had the chance to put what they learned into practice on show day. “There is nothing like learning to do by doing. It’s the 4-H motto and one that EastGen firmly supports,” stated MacPhee.

An exciting feature of the Showcase is the embryo jackpot for dairy competitors. A draw for one embryo was made in each class, giving all competitors the chance to win. Thanks to the following Holstein breeders who so generously provided elite pedigreed embryos, sired by Semex bulls, from the heart of their breeding programs for a draw in each class:

- Bigmaple-Dunphy’s Holsteins Ltd., Keswick, NB;
- Lonelymaple Holsteins, Upper Stewiacke, NS;
- Crasdale Farms, Hunter River, PE;
- Gardenvale Farms Inc., Charlottetown, PE;
- Goldenflo Holsteins, Marshfield, PE;
- Pure Holsteins, Little Rapids, NF;
- Weeksdale Holsteins, Breadalbane, PE;
- Ashlyn Holsteins and Frizzells Valleyville Farm Inc., Hunter River, PE;
- Lindenright Holsteins, Antigonish, NS;
- Lewisdale Holsteins, York, PE;
- Eastside Holsteins, Frenchfort, PE.

These embryo donations were promoted prior to the event via EastGen’s website, Facebook page, and other media outlets. This created a stir among participants eager to win a potential-packed embryo that could develop into an outstanding animal and one day be credited with encouraging their future in the dairy industry.
