Calving ease:

Nexus was born on the Sumava mountain farm owned by Mr. Josef Sova, who is a Czech pioneer of Salers breeding. Salers is a rustical French high mountain breed. Resistance to the mountain terrain and climate as well as its frame and growth belong to advantages of this breed. These traits were confirmed in Czech conditions. Generally, Salers bulls are kept on farms for 14 – 16 months when they are selected for breeding. But Nexus was placed in the test station. His daily gain in test was 1591 g. At the time of selection at 14 months he weighed 608 kg and his height in cross was 143 cm. He was awarded by 73 points. Nexus is useful for creation of resistant herds to extensive conditions.
